Theme Camps

Burly Ten-Pint Men

Firepit, food, music. Possibly martial displays, people in armor, varying levels of medieval period clothing.

Camp Good Lay

Camp Good Lay is back to bring you the warm and cozy yurt complex you've come to know and love. This year, we've partnered with Camp Gold Star and Phart Camp to bring you many different unique experiences - including Phart Camp's new geodome! Don't be shy, come on in! We'd love to share the warmth with you.

Census

Gather information about the community demographics

First Base

Tundra hardened Echo Base and the up-and-coming First Fires team up to create an unforgettable new experience-- This Frostburn, get to First Base.

Our home is open to visitors to come in, warm up by the stove, and enjoy company in our living area. Travelers are encouraged to add their marks onto the murals of our cave walls. Space permitting, we plan to continue our popular Onesie Tea Party and Open Mic events.

Habitat for Insanity/The Psychedelic Ski Lodge

Gather 'round the wood stove for a discussion on a provably optimal method of taxation, a radically different approach to tort law, or a less serious discussion on proper nutrition. Details and times are listed in the schedule.

ILLUMINATION

A light in the winter darkness.

Image of a warm fire to trick your mind.

A stop on the way to somewhere else

Loud Erudite Goblins on Fire

We know we're scary. And smelly. And loud. And rude. Sometimes. Sometimes we're super fun and entertaining and have meat. Unsourced meat, but meat none the less. We also have warm. Many warms, Come use the warms. Have some late-night meats. Maybe some early-morning meats. Learn to give glory to the Knife Demon in hopes that he will harden your nipples with his icy presence, guiding you through the brutal winter to safety. Relative safety, anyway. Assuming he isn't drunk. Anyway, come be impressed with goblin horsebrutality and erudition.

Phart Camp

Phart Camp (Philadelphia Art Camp) returns for our second year at Frostburn as a neighborhood within the Camp Good Lay Yurt Village. Come indulge in some authentic movie theater popcorn as you snuggle up next to our make-pretend fireplace dvd. We aim to create a warm and dry Geohome to share with our fellow Frostburners as a place to create art, play board games, and occasionally take a break for some Mario Kart 64 or a good movie trilogy. As the night revs up, come to Phart Camp for some Late Night Pharts with DJ Liquid Sugar for a less womp womp music experience. If we survive till the morning, there's a good chance we'll be hosting Yoga. BYOM. (Bring your own mat.)

Pink Heart-on

We are most masochistic members of the southeastern camp Chocolypse Now!, and we are very excited to risk hypothermia and frozen toes to come burn with y'all. We will have several spacious army tents, one with a heater, to provide some social space. We will be serving up delectable hot beverages and soups to warm the bodies and souls of all our fellow burners. We will also bring our popular Psychiatric Help Booth to tend to to warped minds of all these freaks that choose to camp out in such inhospitable conditions.

Priority 5

Priority 5 strives to create an immediate and participatory environment that is centered around music and dance. We embrace the blank white slate of the tundra and try to ensure that we have a place always available to the rhythmically inclined masses.

This year we will have a very respectable bar at which we welcome the strange, the weird and the present.

- - Do not camp near us if you do not like music - -

The Toddy Temple (and Biscuit Lab)

Come warm yourselves in the Toddy Temple and receive the sacrament of hot toddies! We of the Toddy Temple invite you to prostrate yourselves before our sacred font. Our Toddy Temple Priestesses and Priests keep the sacred elixir mixed and flowing between bouts of madness, chattering, and silent contemplations. Stare through the illusion of cold sanity into the warm hidden patterns described by our clove-studded lemons spiraling endlessly in the glorious thalassic abyss of teas and whiskeys. Bone tithes, blood sacrifices, and demonstrations of ecstatic illumination are meet offerings to the dark deities of the Toddy Temple. The touch of citrus-boozy madness is our blessing. Bring your own drinking vessel to receive the sacrament; the boozy addition to your elixir is optional, your cup is not!

Lucky pilgrims to the Toddy Temple may also witness and partake in the experimental sacrament known as Biscuit Lab! Merging a little science and a lot of faith we recklessly play with changing recipes and thus changing biscuits. Will any of them be good? Come devour one and find out! Bring your favorite jam, butter, mustard, or blood-jelly! But remember, these are dark experiments... for science!

Töad Meäadow

Drinking, and music all night. Relaxing chill out hookah lounge in back. Daytime philosophy talks and shit talking.

White Dragon Noodle Bar

The White Dragon Noodle Bar is back from our travels round the 'verse for another year of slingin' salty noodles and stingin' drunken wit. When the tent's open, stop by for a snack, a chat, a drink, a game, or yet another story about your very generous mother. At sundown stay for our world-famous vegan soy shiitake noodle soup! Feeling shiny? Sumo wrestle a friend or frenemy and both of you cut the line. Look for the big white tent with the red and white flag, that transgalactic bedouin diner off the shoulder of Orion. Come in and revel in your time.

Art Installations

Fire-osty

Artist: Doug Ruuska

A work of wood and metal unlike any Snowman that has come before! A beacon in the dark and a work of art in the daylight. The Snowman will be waiting for you on the Tundra, dusted with snow and ready to burn.

Stop Here

Artist: Raoul Duke

You'll know if when you see it. A seat in the storm, a place to stop when you probably shouldn't stop here.... Maybe even a drink if you're a little more crazy than you are smart.

Theadona's Marsh

The mountaintop has created an installation for us this year. Brave the swamp between Habitat for Insanity and Pink Heart-on to find a moment of calm or maybe even long forgotten treasures from Theadona herself. Who is Theadona you ask? Brave the frozen marshlands and you might find out.

Santa's Bobsled

Artist: Saint

Santa's Sleigh has no magical properties, it just gets dragged around the world by his magical reindeer. Reindeer have been banned from Marvin's Mountain since the Yuletide goring tragedy of 1986, so Santa's Bobsled has been designed to operate without these dangerous animals. This is a combination of art, insanity, and the potential for participation. Please don't use the Bobsled when it has "passengers" in place, and riders must be capable of safely operating it.

Radio Station

Priority 5 FM

Listen to the party you are missing out on! The output from our mixer turns into a magical energy field that surrounds all of us and lies awaiting you on your radio dial at 105.5 P5.

Zello!

Zello is like a walkie talkie that works over the internet, on your phone. If you want to keep in touch with your friends while on the Tundra, download the Zello app to your smart phone and sign in on site. This is a password protected channel for Frostburn participants and will not be used by Frostburn staff for official communication. The zello channel is Frostburn2016, find out the password when you check in at Gate.

For the adventurous of stomach: If you bring it, we will waffle it.

A New Kind of Taxation (1:00 PM)

Habitat for Insanity/The Psychedelic Ski Lodge

When 100% of one's labor is claimed by someone else, it is known as slavery. Many consider taxes on people's labor, or on goods that they produce, to be similarly immoral. Yet most would agree that some level of publicly funded government is necessary. Is there any moral way to tax? We'll explore a completely moral method of taxation based on the unimproved value of land, and a way to assess the value of land that is immune to political manipulation.

Care and Feeding of Your Theme Camp Generator (or other small engines) (4:00:00 PM)

Toad Meadow

Unlike a vehicle that you drive everyday, your theme camp generator or art car are probably put into storage for long periods of time and then called back into duty after months of neglect. This presents unique challenges to smooth functioning of your equipment. Come to this workshop and we'll review basic maintenance and preparation for storage. As the heartbeat of your theme camp, you want to be absolutely certain that your generator will work when you need it to. This work shop will teach you how to make sure that happens.

It will also be useful for other equipment you have that gets put away for long periods of time such as snowblowers, lawn mowers, dirt bikes, snowmobiles and so on. Immediately following the workshop, we will align your chakras and tune your aura. Those who stay for this will receive extra karma credits.
