FROSTBURN 2017

FEBRUARY 16 - 20

Theme Camps

- Burly 10 Pint Men

- Idiots in the snow serving hot food, conversation, songs, and camaraderie

- Camp Contact

- Contact Improv, yoga, and dance if weather allows. Providing warmth, shelter, and welcoming.

- Camp “Oh Fuck Yeah!”

- The Canadian Igloo is back yet again, bigger and better than ever! Even more snow, even more lights, and even more Canadians, eh. Perhaps a moose petting zoo, who knows.

- First Base

- In the cold reaches of space, one humble outpost stands strong-- a bastion of light, sound, and warmth within a sea of frigid starlight. Music fills the air and murals line the walls as you step into a nest of comfort amid the wasteland. Follow the sounds of laughter, and you'll be sure to make it to First Base.

- Good Lay Village

- Spent all day trudging through the tundra? Why not take a rest at the comfiest spot around - Camp Good Lay. With lots of warm cuddle space, we're that group of crazy and surprisingly cozy spaceships out on the playa. Come play a game or just relax and chat.

- ILLUMINATION

- Bring Light to the Cold Bleak Darkness of the Night. Lots of rope lights buried in the snow and possible video distractions.

- Loud Erudite Goblins on Fire

- Our mission is to be just like a sound camp, except outside and with no sound: a fun place to hang out, party, socialize, and not die. We are LOUD, because we're goblins and we have lots of machines and laughter and yelling. We are, apparently, ERUDITE, because we're amusing conversationalists and know tons of stuff that we're willing to use on or for you. We are ON FIRE, because being hella cold is only fun in short bursts, and charred meat and veggies are tasty af.

- Phart Camp

- Fish Center

- Pioneer camp

- A few blokes staying warm in a 12x12 sunforger flame retardant wall tent the way folks in the 1800s. With cast iron and good food! We're pretty awesome and that in and of itself brings a lot to the burn. There's also the punch.

- Priority Five

- Priority5 stands up for its principals, which are fluid and change every year, but always include the love of friends, techno and brutally cold weather.

- Syncytium

- Sound/fire camp/possible warmth

- the BEST Camp

- Various participant driven activities, friends, fellowship and frosty fun.

- The Toddy Temple

- Come warm yourselves in the Toddy Temple and receive the sacrament of hot toddies! We of the Toddy Temple invite you to prostrate yourselves before our sacred font. Our Toddy Temple Priestesses and Priests keep the sacred elixir mixed and flowing between bouts of madness, chattering, and silent contemplation. Stare through the illusion of cold sanity into the warm hidden patterns described by our clove-studded lemons spiraling endlessly in the glorious thalassic abyss of teas and whiskeys. Bone tithes, blood sacrifices, and demonstrations of ecstatic illumination are meet offerings to the dark deities of the Toddy Temple. The touch of citrus-boozy madness is our blessing. Bring your own drinking vessel to receive the sacrament; the boozy addition to your elixir is optional, your cup is not!

- White Dragon Noodle Bar

- White Dragon Noodle Bar is an eclectic group of irreverent jerks who have been feeding the Tundra since 2009. Stop in our new digs for some hot salty noodles.

- White Rabbit

- Large heated (hopefully well heated) yurt. Chill space, hookah lounge and art gallery.

- Quorum Camp

- Quorum Camp is made up of Transformus Leaders who like to vacation in the winter. We will be offering our delivery service of leftover/second-string Valentines, break ups, creepy messages, whatever the heart desires.

Sunday

Sunday Sunrise Psytrance Sundaes

Priority5

7:06AM

It's Sunday, life sucks because its the last full day of Frostburn, for the weak and insignificant, they have to pack up and leave. For the rest, its the day we party like there is no tomorrow, well, because, there is no worse case of the Mondays than the Monday of Frostburn. How do we celebrate this horribly tragic occurrence? By slamming psytrance as loud as our over sized sound system will possibly allow and doing it at the break of fucking dawn so that anyone trying to sleep... well... cant. This tradition has been going on since before P5 ever started burning. We wondered how we could make this even more absurd, and this year we will be serving something that probably everyone can't stop dreaming about while on the Tundra, ice cream Sundaes.
